Product Migration Options

Customers currently on NET Promina software R3.x5 or R3.x7 are recommended to upgrade to the latest version of NET Promina OS software. For more information on the content of Promina OS software, please refer the Product Release Notes or contact your NET sales representative.

When upgrading to a more recent release, certain software images may no longer be available, hardware platforms may no longer be supported, or there may be changes to memory requirements. For further information, please refer to the Promina Release Notes.

NET customers with current software maintenance contracts can upgrade to a current NET Promina software release as part of their software maintenance contract. For further information on upgrade services or on software maintenance products please consult your NET sales representative.
